

NASA Selects Tulane For Research Project

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has selected Tulane University to conduct a comprehensive research project on a wide range of problems growing out of static testing of large space vehicle engines and stages.

Dr. Herbert E. Longmeyer, Tulane president, made the announcement Tuesday.

He said that NASA has awarded a $55,221 contract to the school of engineering for a one-year study to determine the causes and effects of high-energy, low-frequency sound waves emitted during rocket engine tests.

In explaining the problem, Dr. Lee H. Johnson, dean of the Tulane school of engineering, said that the low-frequency waves caused by the exhaust of the rockets do not dissipate in the atmosphere as do high-frequency waves.

Under certain atmospheric conditions, these below-hearing level waves are focused by the atmosphere and beamed back down to the surface of the earth, causing a severe buffeting action, he said.

The Tulane tests, beginning Dec. 1, will be conducted in the area between Slidell and Bay St. Louis where the Mississippi static testing facility of NASA will be located.

The Tulane research team will evaluate data gathered from the use of a special "horn" developed at the George C. Marshall Space Flight center in Huntsville, Ala., which artificially produces the low-frequency sound waves created by the rockets, Dean Johnson said.

In phase one, the horn will be used to produce the high-energy, low-frequency sound waves to determine what atmospheric conditions in the Mississippi test facility area might cause their reflection into surrounding populated areas.

The second phase of the study is designed to determine which parts of the rocket or its exhaust produce the waves and the third phase will be to study the physiological effects (if any) of the sound waves on people. Faculty of the Tulane school of medicine will participate in the third phase.

The Tulane engineering dean said that it is hoped that the research study will be able to determine the reason for, and the mechanism of the institution of the high-energy, low-frequency sound waves in the rockets and also to determine the exact atmospheric conditions which cause their reflection.

In fulfilling these aims, it may be possible to refine the design of rocket motors to prevent the initial formation of the sound waves or to provide NASA with guides to determine if atmospheric conditions are proper for conducting the static tests, he stressed.

The research team will also use the facilities of a special acoustical laboratory in the Tulane department of electrical engineering.

Director of the project is Robert L. Drake. Assisting in the projects will be Tulane specialists in the fields of acoustics, meteorology, gas dynamics, fluid dynamics, telemetry, and physiology.

NASA ACQUIRES 413.96 ACRES LAND THROUGH COURT

The Federal Government has acquired title to 413.96 acres of land in Hancock County, Mississippi for the Mississippi Test Facility through court action.

A proceeding was filed on Nov. 1, in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Mississippi, Biloxi Division. The sum of $133,800.00 was deposited in the registry of the court as estimated just compensation.

The court action resulted from inability of the Government and the landowners to reach agreement as to land values in some cases, and because of defective title conditions in other instances. This is the third condemnation proceeding to actually acquire title to the land in the fee area.

Named as principal parties defendant were James Willard Hoyer, Vile Dawsey, Walter E. Seal, Albert M. Mars, International Paper Company, Forrest B. Fowler, Leo W. Seal, Norman H. Ott, Sr., Methodist Episcopal Church of Galesville, L. Lavelle Wright Ethel Roddy, Gerard O. Sals Jr., Edward B. Poitevent, Pearl Jones, Heirs of Frank Wingate, State of Mississippi, Heirs of Charles Acker, Adie Acker, Rita C. Johnson, Heirs of Minerva Warren.

Even though the proceeding has been filed, a trial will not be necessary if agreement between the Government and the landowner as to price is reached.

Colonel D. A. Raymond, U. S. Army District Engineer at Mobile, Alabama, announced today the award of a contract in the amount of $68,015.20 to the Gulf States Dredging Company, Inc., of West Palm Beach, Florida, for maintenance dredging in East Pearl River, Wolf River, and Biloxi Harbor on the Mississippi Gulf coast.

The Florida firm will remove shoaling which is impeding navigation in the entrance channels at the mouths of the East Pearl River in Hancock County and the Wolf River in Harrison County and in the approach channel through Mississippi Sound to Biloxi Harbor.

The East Pearl River channel will be dredged to a depth of 11 feet, including an allowable over depth of 200 feet, over a bottom width of 200 feet, for an overall distance of about 1 1/2 miles. The Wolf River channel will be dredged to a depth of 9 feet, including an allowable over depth of 2 feet, over a bottom width of 100 feet, for an overall distance of a little over a mile. Engineers estimate that a total of approximately 211,000 cubic yards of shoaling will have to be removed from the two channels.

The Biloxi Harbor approach channel west of Deer Island will be dredged to a depth of 10 feet below mean low tide over a bottom width of 150 feet from 1500 feet north of Beacon No. 2 to approximately 250 feet north of Beacon No. 10, a distance of about 1 1/2 miles. An additional depth of 1 feet will be allowed to take care of inaccuracies in the dredging process. Engineers estimate that about 207,000 cubic yards of material will be removed from the Biloxi channel.

Work is expected to begin in the next several weeks and to be completed in about four months.

The Corps of Engineers solicited bids on this job from 36 contractors and materials suppliers, and received 6 bids from prime contractors. Bidding was restricted to small business concerns.

Arrest Two Couples Here

Deputy Sheriff Gerard Freeman reported the arrest last Thursday of two couples on U. S. Highway 90.

The couples were identified by Freeman as David Franks and Caroline Tass Franks, and Roy Means and Martha Ellis Means of Carlinville, Illinois. The couples were married the day prior to their arrest, Freeman added. Illinois officers were contacted and they are wanted, Freeman said, in connection with the alleged robbery of $500 worth of tools and of a jewelry store.

On completion of their sentence in Hancock County jail on a disorderly conduct charge, they will be turned over to Sheriff Russell Brown of Carlinville, Freeman stated.

Three boys, identified by Freeman as Joe Johnson, 19 Ernest Hensel, 20, and Drex Baker, 18, address unknown, were apprehended early Tuesday morning and charged with gas theft.

Freeman reported the boys were arrested by Deputy Sheriff Gerald Favre after running through the Bay St. Louis toll bridge.

They were charged with stealing gas from Miller's Service Station, U. S. Highway 90, at 4 a. m. Tuesday and are being held in the local jail pending further investigation.

Boy Scout Drive On

The Bay area division's annual Boy Scout finance campaign kicked off its solicitation of businesses and Scout families Saturday, Nov. 3, campaign chairman John P. Peckham announced. An estimated 100 businesses and Scout families are expected to participate in the drive.

The campaign is headed by John Peckham, Scoutmaster of Troop 1, and includes Mayor John Scalfie, Carl Arnold, Howell Crouch, Chester Ray, Gilbert Gayant, C. C. McDonald, Jr., Richard Mettayer, Jr., Laverne Pahlmann, Theo G. Schumann Jr., and Theo G. Schumann Jr., are spearheading this drive.

The Bay division's campaign goal is $4,000 which is the amount that it will cost in 1963 to finance Scouting's program of character building, citizenship training, and physical fitness. In this age Scouting's devoted volunteers spend countless hours without reimbursement to give boys that needed extra training to supplement church and home. Scouting stresses the importance of God in a boy's life, of helping others without pay, and of a sound mind in a sound body.

Every Scouting unit is calling upon its boys' parents to help bear the cost of providing Scouting to the 250 boys enrolled and the 1500 plus boys of Scouting age (8-17) in the area. First report meeting is scheduled for November 15 at the REA building at 8:00 P. M. The deadline for the drive is November 30 and all workers are urged to complete calls and make returns well in advance of that date, division chairman Richard Mettayer, Jr., said.

The cooler weather of the past few days does something to assist us and fishermen giving them the urge to get outdoors, take the old rusty gun, seek whatever is in season, which are now geese, rabbits, squirrels, and rails and galinules (in other words marsh hens).

To those who have not eaten marsh hens they are better than chicken to us. They feed along the banks on low tides, and mostly on small crabs and other water bugs such as minnows, etc. A couple of marsh hens make a mighty good meal.

Regarding fishing both fresh and salt water fish are being caught most every where. No unusual catches have been reported but strings of various fish have been in evidence.

Oysters are now in season and good catches are reported. Oysters are eaten raw (on the half shell), stewed, fried, baked and as cocktail, as well as oyster soup. Local sportsmen are catching oysters for their own use with oyster tongs and commercial fishermen are getting their share for the market. If you have not eaten raw oysters, better try some. They are excellent with beer, or as an appetizer before meals.

A number of local football fans from here attended the Ole Miss U. S. U. game at Baton Rouge Saturday night. Of course some returned pleased and others disappointed with the results. Each had their own version as to why their favorite team won or lost.

Was a pleasure to meet Clayford Mitchell from the north part of the county. Clayford was telling us of the rabbits up there. Look out Clayford we're coming.

Made a trip to Poplarville and Nacaise Crossing Sunday with Wop Glover and met some old friends of the good old days. Wop was looking over his dogs and getting everything ready for some quality hunting when the season opens. Quail hunting is his favorite sport but fishing is a close second.

He caught some green trout with Doc Elliott Sunday afternoon.

Was a pleasure to see Harry Blake. Harry resides on Nicholson Avenue and commutes to New Orleans. He said if he could catch up on his work he would like to go some fishing. There's time yet Harry!

James Collins and Joseph (Inky) Ingargiola with 7-UP Bottling Company of New Orleans, were trying their luck at fishing this past weekend. Both are ardent fishermen and usually get their share.

Ran into Willard Peterson at Poplarville Sunday. Willard is a long time hunter and remembers some of our old-timers such as the late Bob Genin, Joe DiBenedetto, the late Peter Caruso etc., who used to hunt in that neighborhood. Invited yours truly to make a couple of hunts with him. Thanks Willard. He says he hunts quail with a jeep.

Makes walking a pleasure!

Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Chastant of Pearllington, Miss., and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Murphy of New Orleans were in town over the weekend. The Chastants have a home on White's Bayou and have a wonderful time when together. Of course they also enjoy fishing and golfing.

The season on geese is now open and there seems to be quite a number of geese out in the marshes and

How Super Shell's 9 ingredients can give cars top performance

POWER INGREDIENT in Super Shell works for world champion driver Phil Hill (above, in Ferrari racer). Hill, first American to win the World Championship for Drivers, relies on Super Shell. One important reason: power. Today's Super Shell contains "cat-cracked" gasoline—a power ingredient made by cracking heavier petroleum molecules into lighter, livelier ones. It works to give you the power you need for top performance.

MILEAGE INGREDIENT in Super Shell is Platformate. Shell scientists test it in many cars, many places. In a recent test in San Francisco (above), exactly 250 cc. (about half a pint) of fuel without Platformate was fed into test car. Car ran until fuel was used up, then coasted to a stop (left). Distance: 6186 feet. Test was repeated, using same blend of fuel with Platformate added. Same amount of fuel. Same car. Same conditions. In this test, Super Shell with Platformate took car 6454 feet (right), gave a mileage bonus of 4.3 percent.

NOISE-FIGHTING INGREDIENTS in Super Shell work for a quiet engine at all speeds. Shell scientists even use a stethoscope (above) to check effect of Super Shell's anti-knock ingredients. One of these ingredients, an anti-knock mix, is so effective that a teaspoon per gallon can boost anti-knock rating five points. Alkylate, another Super Shell ingredient, is noted for controlling knock in hot engines at high speeds better than anything else yet available.

TCP* AND FOUR OTHER INGREDIENTS complete Super Shell's 9-ingredient blend. TCP additive can help restore power lost due to combustion deposits—can also extend spark plug life. Butane is for quick starts. Pentane mix helps engines run smoothly during "warm-up." The gum preventive ingredient is to help keep carburetors clean inside. And, when the weather calls for it, Super Shell contains an anti-icer. That's nine ingredients in Super Shell—scientifically blended to give you car top performance.

ROLL UP YOUR SLEEVES

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend service regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

It's November. And in many a local Church it's time to think about the budget for another year.

This is cause for being thankful. Really it is! For aren't there many places in this world where men haven't any opportunity to support their Church... or any Church to support if they had opportunity?

And aren't there many places where men are compelled to work for causes they do not believe in... instead of free to work for a cause in which they do believe?

Frankly, much of the responsibility for keeping our land and our people what we want them to be rests with our Churches.

So let's rejoice in that happy American tradition — the Church budget.

And, in keeping with another fine tradition of our people, let's roll up our sleeves and help!

Information On Fallout Shelters

Robert L. Crook, State Director of Defense

Statement: I wish there were more fallout shelters. I wish you could call on each of you in person and talk over the whole program of Civil Defense in the State of Mississippi today, and I certainly intend to do this as soon as possible, but it is of the utmost importance that I supply you with some immediate information for you to use in your newspapers if you so desire concerning official advice from the State Civil Defense Council on the construction of suitable fallout shelters, which as you know is the only protection from the harmful effects of deadly radiation.

Below I have listed a few hints that you can use separately or together in a special article. I feel, in fact, I know, that the method of presentation of these facts can best be left in your capable hands, so I will supply the information and you can best determine how to present it to your people.

One note of caution... most radiation data is of such technical nature that most of us find it difficult to start right off the bat and write at length on minute details, so for your own protection it might be best to stick more or less to the wording as set out below, with the exception of making it even more simple.

Remember that here in Mississippi, we are "fall-out" State... that we are sufficiently removed from principal target areas to escape blast and heat, so a well stockpiled fallout shelter is the principal means of defense against physical damage resulting from any catastrophe.

Basic Facts About Fallout Shelters:

1. Allow 10-12 square feet of floor space for each person who will use the shelter.
2. Several families can usually get together and build a good shelter for less money than a single family can, though this should not be taken to mean that there is any thing wrong with having your own family shelter, whether an approved commercial unit or a do-it-yourself model.
3. All shelters should be so built that you must turn at least two 90° angles to get inside. Gamma radiation cannot "go around corners." By all means, be sure to look at and read through a Civil Defense shelter-plan booklet before local Civil Defense office or local building or buying one. Call your government members (mayor, alderman and county supervisors) for further information.
4. You often hear the phrase "protection factor"... just what does this mean? Actually, in so far as constructing a shelter or the protection of your family is concerned, the words "protection factor" is simply a way of telling or expressing how much a shelter reduces the radiation. In other words, it tells you what percent of radiation actually penetrates the shelter. For example, a protection factor of 100 means that for every 100 roentgens there may be outside, there will be only one roentgen inside. A protection of 50 means that for every 50 roentgens outside, there will be only one inside. So you see that the higher the protection factor, the better protection a shelter will give.

Remember this about radiation, it does not "bounce" off walls, buildings, etc. Radiation travels in a straight line, and either passes through whatever is in front of it or is absorbed by the material it meets. This you can see that the only protection is something thick enough to absorb most of the radiation. Obviously, it takes different thicknesses of different materials to provide the same protection, but for all practical purposes, you should remember only two of these... for a protection factor of 1000, you need two feet of solid concrete or three feet of earth.

Each shelter should have actually stored in it a two weeks supply of food for each person who will be within the shelter. Here are some average food requirements for each person for the two weeks:

- a. Milk - seven quarts,
- b. Canned meat, poultry, fish, dry beans - eight to nine pounds
- c. Fruits and vegetables - twenty one pounds, canned
- d. Cereals and baked goods - five to seven pounds
- e. Water - seven gallons per person
- f. Other supplies a shelter should have are as follows:
- g. Battery radio with CONEIRAD frequencies (640 or 1240) marked and spare batteries for two-week operation
- h. Home-use radiation instruments
- i. Reading material, including a Bible or other appropriate religious material

Still other supplies a shelter should have are:

- A. Food and cooking equipment
- B. Eating utensils
- C. Openers for cans and bottles
- D. Pocket Knife
- E. Special foods for babies and the sick
- F. Supplies and equipment for sanitation:

- a. Can for garbage (20-gal.)
- b. Covered pail for toilet purposes
- c. Can for human wastes (10-gal.)
- d. Toilet tissue, paper towels, feminine hygiene supplies, dispos-

ASK HELP IN RE-EMPLOYMENT OF NATIONAL GUARDSMEN

Governor Ross Barnett and Adjutant General W. P. Wilson have asked the help of Mississippi employers in effecting re-employment of Mississippi National Guardsmen called to duty in the two recent crises.

The statement pointed out that Guardsmen recently have been called twice "involuntarily," and that while service may be a time to impose "unpleasant service" on Guardsmen and impose hardships on both employers and Guardsmen, it is still essential that the strength of the National Guard be maintained for both National defense and state service. Employers can help make a vital contribution to national security by helping assure Guardsmen that their jobs will be waiting them on return from active duty.

Both the Governor and the Adjutant General stressed the fact that under existing statutes Guardsmen have no choice but to report for duty, when ordered, and that their failure to report would have imposed undue hardships on them and their families, as well as an additional hardship on the state.

The joint statement follows: "The State militia - as now constituted by the Mississippi National Guard - has a long history of distinguished service in both peace and war," the statement said.

"Mississippi National Guardsmen have repeatedly answered calls of service both to defend the nation and to protect lives and property in the State. The two recent calls on Guardsmen were both involuntary, insofar as the National Guard and the individual Guardsmen are concerned."

"Many Mississippi National Guardsmen have already risked their lives in two wars to protect the freedom of Mississippians and their fellow Americans. All Mississippi Guardsmen may be called on to make such sacrifice again."

"One of our only hopes for peace is a strong military establishment, of which the National Guard is, a most important part. For the Nation's survival, it is imperative that the Guard be maintained at peak efficiency."

"The National Guard does not exist for the benefit of its members, it exists for the benefit of the state, its citizens, and the Nation. Without the Guard, our situation would be far more difficult. Its members may be called upon to perform unpleasant tasks, but under existing statutes they have no choice but to report for duty when ordered. Failure to report would, result in severe hardships upon them, their families and would have caused further untold complications for the State."

"Employers can help the National and state security by helping to assure Guardsmen of their re-employment on return from duty. Without the Guard, security efforts in the Natchez situation would have been greatly complicated."

"Deep appreciation is expressed to all employers who recognize the difficulties of the times and who are contributing their support to their fellow citizens who serve State and Nation in the National Guard."

PEKS $500,000 FROM WAVELAND IN DAMAGE SUIT

A Louisiana resident's half-million dollar suit against a Coast municipality has been filed in federal court at Biloxi.

The suit was brought against the city of Waveland by Paul J. Eckler as next friend and father of John Eckler, a minor.

The action alleges that young Eckler was seriously injured Aug. 6, 1960, when he dove off the end of the Waveland municipal pier in shallow water, striking his head and shoulders on bottom.

The youth is paralyzed from the waist down, the suit claims.

MANY HOSPITAL ADMINISTRATORS TO MEET NOVEMBER 10TH

Approximately 25 Hospital Administrators and their assistants are expected to attend a symposium on management education in Clarksdale, Mississippi on Nov. 10.

The symposium is the first to be sponsored by Mississippi affiliates of the American College of Hospital Administrators. In addition to State Administrators, the meeting is expected to draw hospital personnel from Louisiana, Tennessee, Arkansas and Alabama according to Robert A. Ivy, Columbus, Affiliate Coordinator.

Three National authorities in the field of Hospital Administration, Ray E. Brown of Chicago, Tolliver B. Terrell of San Angelo, Texas and Frank S. Groner, Memphis, will be the main speakers. All three have served as presidents of both the American Hospital Association and the American College of Hospital Administrators.

Brown, Vice President for administration of the University of Chicago will speak on "Dynamics of Administration."

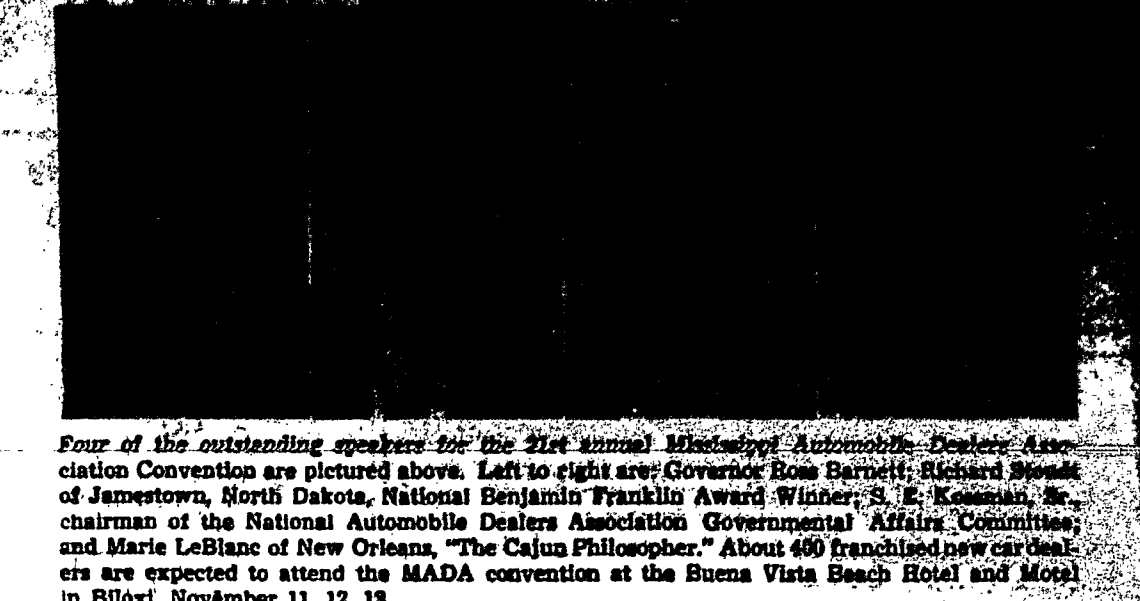

Subjects of the other two authorities will be "A proven vehicle of self improvement" by Terrell, Administrator of the Shannon West Texas Memorial Hospital and "Facing the facts" by Groner, Administrator of the Baptist Hospital in Memphis.

Ivy relates that the Symposium is an effort by state members "to get the Educational Program on a grassroots level rather than the Regional approach used in the past."

E. Bruce Sledge, Greenwood, Administrator of the Greenwood Leflore Hospital will preside and C. C. Whittington, Greenwood, President of the Mississippi Association of Hospital Governing Boards will deliver the welcoming address.

Other speakers will be Clyde L. Sibley of Birmingham, Administrator of Birmingham Baptist Hospital whose topic will be "Identifying yourself with a profession" and Matthew F. McNulty, Jr., of Birmingham, Administrator and professor of hospital administration at the University Hospital and Hillman Clinic, who will discuss "The initiative and wisdom of Group Action."

E. L. King, Administrator of North Mississippi Community Hospital Tupelo and President of the Mississippi Hospital Association will participate as a panel moderator. Clinical instructor during the afternoon session will be Murray E. Hill, Tunica, Administrator of the Tunica County Hospital.

Judging will be done by a committee of journalists appointed by the Ole Miss Department of Journalism.

ALL HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS ELIGIBLE FOR ESSAY CONTEST

University, Miss., Oct. 3 - High school seniors across the United States are eligible for competition in the 1963 Freedom of the Press Essay Contest, Dr. Samuel Talbert, chairman of the University of Mississippi Department of Journalism announced.

Inaugrated two years ago as a state-wide event, this year the contest has been expanded to cover the entire nation.

The essays, on the subject "What Freedom of the Press Means to me," should be postmarked on or before April 1, 1963. Entries, which are not to exceed 400 words in length, should be submitted to the Department of Journalism, University, Mississippi.

"Judging will be on the basis of freshness, relevancy, impact, and accuracy as to historical references," asserted Dr. Talbert.

In previous contests approximately 150 essays were entered. The first place winners of 1961 and 1962 are now enrolled at Ole Miss studying journalism. They are Mary Jo Latham, Hollandale, and Patsy Kiska, Rolling Fork.

"A first prize of $500 will be offered along with a $100 scholarship to Ole Miss as second prize," Dr. Talbert announced.
